WonderWorks to Host Holiday Themed Science Day Camps This December

Shop for the holidays with ease while the kids experience the upside-down adventure on select Saturdays in December

Syracuse, NY (November 15, 2018) This holiday season WonderWorks will host three Science Day Camps appropriately titled “The Holiday Experiment”, on December 8th, 15th, and 22nd. Open to children ages 7-12, campers can explore WonderWorks, participating in activities such as ice breakers, STEM activities, the Canyon Climbs ropes course and laser tag, while parents shop for the holidays at Destiny USA. Campers will also get an exclusive WonderWorks souvenir to take home. The Holiday Experiment begins at $40 plus tax for annual passholders and $50 plus tax for regular guests. The camp will run twice a day from 2pm-5pm and 6pm-9pm.

“Our goal was to not only provide our campers with a wonderful experience, but to give parents time to do their holiday shopping,” said Director of Operations at WonderWorks Nicole Montgomery. “We couldn’t be more excited to welcome our campers in and give them a one of a kind WonderWorks experience.”

Additionally, WonderWorks is offering a buy one get one free promotion on their annual pass as another way to help parents out this holiday season.
